

AMERICAN CENTER HOSTS A PUBLIC LECTURE

POWER OF CURATING

Making Museums Come Alive

Speaker

Karen Lee Smithsonian Curator

Wednesday
July
24
3:00 pm

National Museum
Sir Marcus Fernando Mawatha
Colombo 07

Karen Lee is a curator from the Smithsonian, the world's largest museum and research complex based in Washington, D.C.

She teaches in Asia and Europe and is a highly-valued facilitator devoted to helping museum staff find creative solutions to daunting challenges. A believer in educational outreach and collaboration, Lee couriered a rare American coin on a seven country European tour in 2012. This special project attracted more than 10 million viewers online, in person and through other media.

Karen M. Lee has a Master's Degree in Museum Studies undergraduate degree in Biology.

Please confirm your participation on or before July 24, 2013

Tel: 011-2498106, or 011-2498163
Email: amcentersl@state.gov

